

Sandaoling - Day 3 - Monday 10 December 2018

I managed to get a full night's sleep for the first time so the blog today is primarily photos with notes.

Grab shot from the video camera of Day 2 early morning at Kenkouzhan

All 3 locos at Dongbolizhan this morning

We concentrated on Kenkou, Dongboli and the pit today. The morning shift change happened at Kenkou again before we went over to Dongboli. There was some shunting to remove non-functioning wagons from a rake and the morning was a bit slow in starting.

Second train to the pit

8197 approaches Kenkou while 8195 waits to descend.

8197 heads to the washery

8195 and 8197 down the pit

Crossing at Ba-erzhan seen from the Pipe

Afternoon train with sunset approaching.

Between Ba-erzhan and the Pipe

Sandaoling Haircut - haircut received at 2 pm on Sunday

The sunset shot - actually about 5 minutes after sunset.

Downhill train prior to sunset

No trains to the coal yard today as far as we know.
